TENTATIVE DATES FIXED FOR HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

Term Will Come to a Close the Last Week in May with Usual Exercises

SERMON TO CLASS MAY 26TH

The commencement of the Charleroi high school will take place the last week in May, according to the tentative dates selected by Superintendent Pollock. The Board, at its regular meeting Tuesday evening, held at the high school building, fixed Sunday, May 26, as the date for the baccalaureate sermon and selected the Rev. C. A. Keller, the new pastor of the First Presbyterian church, to deliver the address. Details of the exercises will be left largely to the local ministerial union as has been the custom heretofore of which due announcement will be made before the close of the school term. The exercises will be held in the high school auditorium.

As the date for the baccalaureate sermon has been fixed, it is likely the commencement exercises will be held Monday evening, May 27, and the annual picnic on Tuesday, May 28. These two latter dates will be suggested by Prof. Pollock and there is every reason to believe they will be acceptable to the board.

Miss Muriel Scot has been selected to take the place temporarily of Miss Effie Parker, teacher of English in the high school, who has been granted a leave of absence on account of illness. She will leave for her home in Scotland for a brief rest.

The trouble with members of one of the high school classes, and which resulted in several of them being sent home, has been amicably adjusted. The students have admitted that the matter was one of discipline and that hereafter they will obey the requirements of the school as laid down by the faculty. This was satisfactory to all parties concerned and the students are once more back in their accustomed places.

DRA. HILLIS TO GIVE A SECOND LECTURE

Arrangements have been completed whereby Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, in addition to giving his lecture in the High school auditorium Thursday evening will also speak in the same place Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Those having tickets for the Thursday evening lecture but wishing to avoid the crowd which will be present at that time will have the same honored Friday afternoon if they prefer to attend at that time. Special tickets will be sold for the Friday afternoon lecture, but they will not be good for Thursday evening lecture.

Mrs. John Penman and children of Pittsburg are visiting with friends in Charleroi while Mr. Penman is on a business trip to the south.

STEAMER JENKINS IS NOW BEING RAISED

Work on raising the steamer Robert Jenkins, which sank in the Monongahela at Elizabeth during the ice break-up was begun on Tuesday. When raised the steamer will be put on the Elizabeth Marine Ways for repairs, which will be comparatively light. When taken off the ways the boat will be re-entered in the local pool trade.

ROUTINE MATTERS DISPOSED OF

Regular Session of Borough Council Held Tuesday Evening

OFFICERS MAKE THEIR REPORTS

The regular monthly meeting of borough council was held Tuesday evening with all members present except Duvall.

The treasurer presented his report for January, which showed total collections of $4,950.04, and disbursements of $4,527.36. On the last day of December the balance in the treasury was $125.62, which with the balance from January made a total of $543.30 in the treasury January 31st.

The report of Burgess Woodward showed that 34 arrests had been made in February, fines imposed $86.00, with $81 collected and five defendants who served time.

The report of the tax collector for February showed collections to the amount of $208.80. The regular monthly dues were presented and approved for payment.

A number of residents of Oakland avenue, near Sixth street, having requested council to place sidewalks along that thoroughfare, the matter was held under advisement for further investigation.

Citizens living on Lincoln avenue, near 12th street, complained of the overflow of water on their properties. The complaint was referred to the proper committee for investigation.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee, together with the Chief of the local fire department were appointed as a committee to make an investigation and report on the needs of the fire company.

The matter of closing up the deal between the borough and the Knights of Malta with reference to the sale of the borough building, was referred to a committee composed of Messrs. Swickey, Moody and VanVoorhis.

A petition was presented from a number of residents of the hill district, who asked permission to raise logs within the borough limits. It

Great Audience Will Greet Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis

Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, who speaks in Charleroi Thursday evening, in the high school auditorium, spoke in Carnegie Hall Pittsburg, Tuesday. Pittsburg papers give considerable attention to his address, the Dispatch saying that he paid a most remarkable tribute to the British nation as well as to the French. He said that the United States should be suspicious of any one who vilifies Great Britain, whose fleet representing the typical bulldog, has kept the German rat in the rat hole at Kiel. Those who severely criticize Great Britain he said ought to be watched closely at night and shot at daybreak. In his address he said that 120,000 men, women and children in Belgium and northern France had either been murdered or mutilated during the first 72 days of the war by German soldiers. All this done according to a plan pre-

MADE TO ANSWER HIS QUESTIONNAIRE

Bentleyville officers on Tuesday arrested Tom Pagin, in that town, on a charge of larceny. Pagin, who is an Austrian and an alien enemy, was charged with attempting to steal dynamite. He was taken before Joe T. S. Cowen, of the registration board at Ellsworth, where it was discovered that the man had not filled out his questionnaire, which had been mailed him in December. He was compelled to have the paper filled out, and the man immediately classified, but being an alien enemy he should not be selected for service in the army. He was turned loose.

was referred to the ordinance committee.

A complaint from Lincoln avenue residents between Seventh and Eighth streets with reference to damage by water, was referred to the Street Committee with instructions to investigate and see what could be done.

This concluded the business of the evening and council adjourned.

NEXT DRAFT MAY COME IN APRIL

The provost marshal's office at Washington has prepared an "important announcement," which will be issued shortly and which it is believed will fix the date for the next draft of men, as well as the number to report at the various cantonments. Publication of the announcement is being held up pending action by Congress on amendments to the selective service act. The most important of the proposed changes in the opinion of Provost Marshal General Crowder is that which will give him authority to base state quotas on the total number of men in Class A-1, instead of the total registered. This amendment, which has been passed by the Senate was reported favorably in the House on Tuesday. It is believed that, if it passes within the time expected, that many of the men under the new regulations will be on their way to camp some time early in April.

George Minford of Johnstown is visiting friends here for a few days.

THREATENING LETTERS SAID TO BE SENT BY BLACK HANDERS

WELL KNOWN BOAT BACK IN POOL TRADE

The steamer T. J. Wood arrived at the Pittsburg wharf on Tuesday from Donovan, Ky., and will be entered in the local pool trade. The boat is owned by the Pittsburg Coal company. The steamer was formerly owned by T. J. Wood & Co., of Woods Run and was turned over to the Combine twenty years ago, at the formation of that company. The Wood is well adapted for the local trade, in which she was formerly employed.

North Charleroi Residents Said to Have Received Such Missives

SOME ARE WARNED TO MOVE

Rumors of black hand letters said to have been received by residents of North Charleroi who live near the entrance to the Charleroi-Monessen bridge has caused considerable comment in that locality. It is reported that these letters have been issued from Monessen, and are in the usual form of demanding that the recipient "stand and deliver" certain specified sums of money or suffer the penalty. As the story goes, Humbert Solary, who keeps a confectionery store in the brick building near the corner of McKean avenue and Bridge entrance has been the recipient of at least two or three kinds of letters within a very recent date. They have demanded it is alleged that the recipient pay over a certain sum of money under threat of possible destruction of his property and possibly bodily harm. While Mr. Solary makes no statement with reference to the receipt of these letters, it is asserted on the best of authority that Dr. Sickman, who has an office in an adjoining building, received a warning that might be best for him to move that night. His family, it is said, might be in harm's way if anything should happen. Taking precaution it is said the Doctor and his family do not occupy their house at night and have moved many of their valuables to a place of safe keeping in Charleroi.

Just how serious the situation is, however, it is impossible to say, as very little information can be obtained, some fearing that the "Black Handers" will carry out the threats they have made. State police may make an investigation of the affair, although it is believed it would be a difficult matter to apprehend the author of the letter.

COMMISSIONS FOR THE HOME DEFENSE

The regular weekly meeting of the Home Defense Police will be held in the high school gymnasium this evening at 8 o'clock, at which time a number of commissions will be issued. Officers desire every member of the organization to be present, and particularly those whose commissions have arrived, that they may be properly signed, and later made a matter of record. The usual setting-up exercises will take place as well as the military tactics.

NOTICE

All Lady Maccabees are requested to meet at the home of Mrs. J. P. Ferry, 405 Fallowfield avenue, Thursday evening, March 7, at 7:30 o'clock, without fail. Business of importance.

By Order of Commander.

AWAKE, YE ISRAEL PUTNAMS
More than a hundred years ago, when the United States was yet only the dream of a few ardent lovers of Liberty, Israel Putnam was struggling with a team and plow among the stumps and rocks of a newly cleared New England field. Possibly he too may have been dreaming of the day when America would be a nation of itself.

Up the winding roadway dashed a man on horseback. Opposite the plowman he drew up his animal and shouted, sharply, excitedly, impetuously.
Putnam urged his plodding plow horses to livelier effort. Presently he had reached the roadside and the horseman wildly told the tale of the British raid upon Lexington.

It was seeding time in the not overly productive New England hills and Israel Putnam was his own plowman.
But over and above all else he was a patriot. He didn't stop to consider the possible cost of his leaving. He didn't look around for a man to finish his job. He didn't stop even to tell the folks at the house over beyond the ridge where he was going.

He left the team standing hitched to the plow and hurried post haste to answer the call of his country. Liberty was at stake and he was off to the rescue.

Liberty is at stake again today.
Four liberty, my liberty, the liberty of half the civilized world. And every day a rural mail carrier brings the story with all its dread warning along the winding country road to the Israel Putnams.

But they aren't in the field with the plow today. They're storing their $2.25 wheat, their potatoes, their corn their unions and all the products of the field that are worth more than they have been since the civil war.

And better than anyone else they know in their hearts how well they are responding to the call of Liberty, outraged, oppressed all but throttled.

It was Israel Putnam and men of his stamp, tillers of the soil, the yeomanry of a virgin country, that won its freedom in those days of hardship and glorious sacrifices. And in this day of that selfsame nation's great need the traditions of their forefathers will call to them with an appeal that will not fall upon deaf and unheeding ears.

The farmer hasn't yet awakened wholly to the crisis. He has been busy making hay while the sun shone.
Reaping his grain while the days were fair. Garnering his crops against the day of need. Have patience, Mr.
Cityman.

Gratitude, loyalty, patriotism on the farm didn't disappear wholly with the passing of Israel Putnam.

The full-fledged farmer will buy Liberty Bonds.

THE SENTRY AND THE PRO- GERMAN.

It may be necessary, it may be right to impose the death penalty on American soldiers who go to sleep on picket duty, says the New York Telegram. We do not pretend to know as much of the science of war as those who make it a business to know and if the exigencies of the battle-front demand an extreme penalty for those who place our army in danger by neglecting duties to which they have been assigned, we may regret but we do not criticize the course of officers who impose that penalty. At the same time we cannot help contrasting the rigorous, the Spartan justice meted out to these sons of American fathers and mothers with the tender treatment of secessionists, spies and traitors who infest this country and play into the hands of the enemy.

A sleeping sentry may lose a fortification and the loss of a battle may lose a war. Therefore soldiers must not be permitted to sleep while they are expected to be awake. Neither should the guardians of our national honor be permitted to sleep at home while public enemies are active in propaganda and alert in their activities. There is reason to believe that more than one has been spotted by the Secret Service, but there has been no execution; more than one orator at secessionists' meetings, in the name of free speech, has given aid and comfort to the enemy, but most of the disloyalists are still at large.

And our own people are becoming more and more discontented. If the fighting squads are to be formed in Northern France we should not lose sight of the fact that we are living under war conditions at home. A single day may give information to the enemy that will result in the loss of a battle and it is possible for a war, as has been said.

Does the pro-German informer on our own shores deserve to be hanged?
The sleepy-headed boy overcome by indignity perhaps is overcome by death? We think not, and we believe the great mass of the people in this country think the same way.
The fighting squad in Northern France is a tragic object lesson and object lessons are needed here quite as much in France.

NO TEMPORIZING.

Colonel Henry Watterson, in the Louisville Courier Journal, gives his advice some plain advice about the war. He says in part:
"The end of the war is to be brought not by pen work, but by the sword of the Lord and of Gideon; the arms are to be delivered out of the hands of cannon: the lazy sons of peace who are too good to live and too proud to fight will have to put on something more than war paint and feathers before they can be trusted to the final equation to handle results. Down with tommyrot.

There are a few other things to be considered other than freedom, justice and respect for the principles of international law. We shall not set with the Hohenzollern at all, not with Germany, until Germany is born again. Meanwhile there are scores of any and bloody scores, to settle.
The Lusitania and the Sussex; the Belgian horrors; especially the murder of Edith Cavell; the murderous air raids on London and Paris and the defended coast towns and hamlets.
Even as we have suffered the Hun must suffer.

"Vengeance is mine, saith the Lord," but Heaven has heard the cries of drowning women—has seen the tiny hands of children stretchout in dumb entreaty from the bottom of the ocean—and, in answer to both, another voice exclaims above the din of the tempest and the roar of battle, 'Smite the Philistine, hip and thigh!'

"If we equivocate we are lost.
Freedom in the United States requires not only the destruction of authority in Germany but the total annihilation of militarism and the military spirit. If any power is left integral in Germany to make treaty with any other power, we are lost. If all government in Germany be not blotted out even as the Southern Confederacy in America was blotted out, we are lost. We have fought in vain, and all our sacrifices in blood and treasure will go for naught if we do not clean and sure work of it.
We must smite the Philistine hip and thigh."

WASTE

We waste food in many ways:

- In peeling potatoes, the loss is 20 per cent.
- In stale bread.
- In bread crusts.
- In table crumbs.
- In kitchen garbage.
- In the fats of meats.
- In the meat and chicken bones.
- In the sour milk and buttermilk, that is thrown away.
- In fats which we neglect to render.
- In eating more than we really need.
- In eating wrong kinds of food.
- In frying meats and not saving the fats.
- In not substituting other foods for the beef, wheat and bacon which are needed overseas.
- In improper cooking.
- In feeding too much protein (albumen in eggs and a gluten in flour) to old persons and persons of sedentary habits.
- In keeping too many domestic pets which consume good food.
- In leaving food uncovered to be wasted or spoiled by vermin.

THE FRANCE OF TODAY

"They have heard it charged," said Ernest Guy of the French High Commission, now visiting this country, "that France is bled white, but I am here to tell you that France is not bled white. The statement is the talk of German propaganda. France is ready to fight to the end. At this moment she is holding nearly six hundred miles of the western front, nearly two-thirds of that entire battle line.

At this moment France still has the most powerful army in the world, save only one exception. That exception is Germany, and even there the only superiority that the German army has over the French is in numbers. France today is the same nation that hurled back the Germans at the Marne, the same nation which once before saved civilization on that same Marne battlefield by stemming the torrent of the Huns under Attila, and which may yet count on France, scoring victories of false peace, to hold the line that will result in the loss of a battle and it is possible for a war, as has been said.

UNTIL GERMANY IS BEATEN

Said Edna Root—"We must not forget that the statements of our peace terms mean not peace but war until Germany is beaten into accepting them. We must be careful that newspaper headlines about peace terms do not distract our attention from the intense concentration of effort upon war necessary to carry our country through the supreme test of its power to maintain her liberty."

Mr. Root has touched upon a timely topic. There are newspapers which fall for Berlin's craftily planned peace bait every time it is thrown out. One day these newspapers will have a seven-column peace "screamers" and probably the next day editorially they will gravely discuss the importance of discounting peace talk. Score one for Berlin every time you see a peace "screamer" these days.

Charity, or gifts to individuals not deductible—

If, during 1917, you contributed money toward the support of a needy family this contribution cannot be claimed as a deduction.

Contributions, or gifts, made to individuals do not constitute allowable deductions.

MANY SLACKERS BEING ARRESTED

A vigorous campaign against "slackers" is now being waged in Pittsburg and as a consequence so many men have been arrested for violating the draft requirements that the Allegheny county jail was filled to overflowing. It was necessary for the government authorities to secure other quarters and from now on the jail in East End, will be used as a place of detention for these men.

It is alleged that "slackers" from all over the country have come to Pittsburg, believing that it would be easy to evade the requirements of the law, but the activity of the police of that city within the past few days has caused a change to come over the scene. Mayor Babcock and Superintendent Prichard have given their word to "clean up" the town of slackers and are making good their word. The activity of the government in this respect is likely to be made apparent in outlying towns very soon, and all those who have thus far escaped the draft to which they are eligible will be rounded up and sent to camp.

The Theatre.

There is an altogether unusual list of feature attractions in the bill of nine vaudeville with which Harry Davis will regale patrons of the Davis Theatre next week, beginning Monday afternoon, March 11th. He is announcing as his special headline feature, Miss Stella Mayhew, bouncing, buxom, buoyant singing comedienne, who starred in "High Jinks," "Suanwee River" and a dozen other artistic and financial successes. Miss Mayhew is coming alone to render a repertoire of character songs, through which she will range the whole register of comic types.
She has a voice of mellow sweetness, pure quality and fine timbre and the happy faculty of injecting into its the peculiar characteristics of a varied group of odd types. Indeed she ranges from the dilettante and debutante of society to the droll darky of the southern plantation. Her songs are all narratives—lyrics rich in the story-telling quality. Incidentally, she is one of the most attractively gowned women on the stage and during her week at the Davis will wear a lot of fetching frocks of bizarre fashion that will prove as interesting to men folk as to the women.

Most Aggressive Religion.

Mohammedanism is the aggressive religion of India, says the World Outlook, and has increased its membership 9 per cent in a decade, while the general population has increased only 2 per cent. Many more native Indians are becoming Mohammedans every year than are turning to Christianity, but proportionately Christianity is leading in growth, having increased 25 per cent in ten years.

WANTS TO SELL THOMPSON'S LAND

Seeking to complete a deal for the sale of Greene county coal lands owned by J. V. Thompson, Uniontown bankrupt, trustees in bankruptcy have petitioned the United States District Court at Pittsburg for permission to dispose of the lands to Joseph C. Butler, Jr., of Youngstown, O., for $3,027,846 an agreement having been entered into with Mr. Butler for the blanket sale of the property.

In order to consummate the sale the trustees must get 78 holders of mortgages and 1,500 judgments to temporarily relinquish their claims in order that clear titles may be conveyed. These lien holders live in 10 states of the United States and a few of them abroad.

RIVERMEN ARE IN CONSULTATION

Capt. George S. Nutt, superintendent of construction, Capt. Jesse Virgil, of the craneboat Monongahela, and Lockmaster Robert McGreevy, all experienced rivermen, were called to Pittsburg today to consult with Assistant Engineer W. D. Fairchild with reference to repair and construction work on the Monongahela river during the coming season. There will be a great deal of this kind of work to do the coming season and Mr.
Fairchild wished to get a line on conditions that the work may be pushed with all possible speed. Capt. Jas-T. Nutt, of the steamer Slackwater, was also requested to be present, but owing to the fact that his boat is busily engaged on some special work at this time he could not get away.

The first work to engage the attention of Capt. George Nutt and his crew will likely be the necessary repairs to the east wing of the dam at No. 4, from which a great deal of the sleeting has been washed off. Already a lot of preliminary work has been done, preparing for this job, and when the river falls to a lower stage, the repairs will be put under way.

INSTITUTE TO BE HELD ON FRIDAY

trict of Washington county, composed of Bentleyville, Ellsworth, Coke-burg and Somerset township will

Miners Bank Hall Bentleyville March program has been prepared as follows: Devotional, Rev. A. T. Carr.

Songs, chorus, Bentleyville Public schools.

Music, Ellsworth High School Mangolin Club.
Address, Prof. L. R. Crumrine.
Songs, Bentleyville High school.

Work," Dr. C. E. Lyons, professor of History of Education, U of P.
Flag drill and pantomime, Bentleyville Public schools.
Benediction.
The afternoon session of the institute will begin at 1:30 p. m. and the evening session at 7:30. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend both meetings.

FOURTH DISTRICT TO SEND MORE MEN

The Fourth Registration and Draft district of Washington county will send fourteen men to Camp Sherman next Tuesday. These men will fill out a quota from the Fourth district, which has been minus this number of men because of the fact that an equal number of those previously sent had been physically disqualified or were alien enemies. With this contingent the requirements of the Fourth district as to men will be made up.
In the party will be two Italians who had requested permission from their Consul to enlist in the National Army, but which was refused. The Consul wanted to send the men to Italy, but they desired to enlist in the army in the United States, and their wish has been complied with.

FAVORITE STOGIE IS DOOMED

Long, Slim Smoke, Popular With Many Men, Soon Will Be No More, According to Tobacco Dealer.

A Cleveland tobacco dealer is authority for the statement that stogies soon will be no more. The war has knocked the stuffing out of them, or rather, it has taken the stogies' stuffing away to fill cigars of more unstonic shape. Profit is all but gone.
Prices slump, but so also do the objections increase against paying the highest rate. Taken altogether, the chances for the stogie are as slim as itself, say the Toledo Blade.

As virtually all cigars can roll just so was it once possible for any Americans besides professional cigar-makers to manufacture their own stogies. Hospitable folk of the tobacco districts thought it the thing to offer their guests cigars which had been made in the house. The stogie was the last of its kind which could be said to have an unprofessional origin, many thousands being rolled by women at their homes in periods of the day when household duties were light.
Now the stogie is to disappear.
Charmaking in this country will cease to have even the slightest of the antique touch.

This vanishing is to be regretted, not simply because the stogie was a cheap smoke, but also because it was picturesque. It fitted a certain type of American life. It went with long chins, long legs, bodies without superfluous flesh. The man whose pockets were stuffed with stogies seemed to be armed against loneliness and the power of anyone to "turn him down." Smokers of timid spirit never affected stogies.

ANYBODY CAN MAKE MISTAKES

Everybody Able to Blunder, But Few Are Willing to Frankly Admit They Have Made an Error.

Mistakes are things anybody can make successfully.

I have known people, writes Strickland Gilliam, in Farm Life, who seemed to fail at every other kind of manufacturing who could make as splendid specimens of mistakes as one could wish to see.

Yes, and so it easy!
I have made mistakes.

Yep, I have.

I used to think I made none.

Now I list that think as one of the biggest mistakes I ever made or knew about.

These days I find myself wondering if I am not the fellow who invented them.

Sometimes a fellow takes a miss that nobody else would take, and afterward finds out it was a miss-take.

Anybody under twenty never admits that he has made a mistake.

And he is usually honest about it.
If anything goes wrong, blame it onto someone else.

After twenty-five he begins to think of a few he made when he was eleven.

By the time he is forty-five he will forget the mistakes he made in early youth because, in looking back over the trail, the little ones of childhood are completely hid by the whoppers he has made since he was thirty-five.

I don't know why people have to make mistakes.

But they are built that way.

I believe I never made the same mistake twice.

This encourages me.

For as I look back over a mistake-dotted career I believe I have reached the point at which I cannot make any mistakes without repeating.

But that may be a mistake.

Right to the Point

One of the judges of the county court was called upon at his club responding to a New York correspondent, to make a speech in favor of the appointment of a well-known lawyer and member of the club, who was gunning for a political job. The judge touched on the patriotic issue, various questions of civil virtue and the value of keeping good men on the bench. At this point one of the members of the club, noted for his argumentative and violently demonstrative support of any point he took, arose. The remainder of the audience mentally not on tiptoe. Here is where the fireworks started. "Judge," began the questioner, "there's one thing that has always bothered me, and I hope you can settle it for me so that the other members of this club will see that I am right.
This is it: Does or does not a straight flush beat four of a kind under any and all circumstances?"

It was the shopping period, and Miss Smith thought she would "drop in" on Mrs. Jones and ask her if she would assist her in the noble art of presentbunting.

"Is your mistress in?" she asked the young maid.

"Yes, miss," was the prompt reply.

She was shown into the drawing room. But an hour passed and no Mrs. Jones appeared. At last the lady sank up and called to the maid:

"Did you tell your mistress I was here?" she asked.

"Oh, no, miss," replied the girl quickly; "she hasn't returned from shopping yet."

"Not returned!" exclaimed the astonished visitor.

"No, miss. You see the mistress told me she was always home to you!"

WORK OF FIREMEN IS APPRECIATED

At the regular meeting of the Charleroi Fire Department, held in the firemen's room in the Borough Building Tuesday evening, Chief Fleming reported that the People's Store had sent a box of fine cigars to the firemen for the splendid work done at the store of the company a few weeks ago; also a letter of thanks and a generous check from the Page Store and Wre company of Monaca for the services rendered a couple of weeks ago when a serious fire threatened the plant.

Both of these gifts were greatly appreciated by the boys, as they showed the spirit of the donors, whose property had been so well looked after. The firemen also discussed the moving of their social rooms, which will have to be done by the 15th of the month, at which time the Maikas expect to take possession. No rooms have yet been secured, but the officers hope to be able to secure suitable quarters for the men before that time. The firemen are anxiously awaiting the time when their quarters in the new borough building will be completed which it is expected will be some time late in the summer.

The color scheme was carried out in pink and white. Those present from Pittsburg were Marie Abbott, Florence Mundy, Clara Dunn, Mrs. Thomts Abbott, Joseph Hanel, Wm. Beet-Sugar Production.

In 1747 a Berlin chemist discovered that sugar could be obtained from beets, and since then the percentage of sugar has been increased so considerably by selective breeding of the vegetables that nowadays a ton of it is derived from nine tons of the roots. The average person in this country consumes two-thirds of his own weight of sugar in a year.

Pain Gives Warning.

The nervous system is our life-saving service and every time a nerve aches or quivers in pain it is a blessing in disguise. The first bit of toothache warns you that disease germs are attacking its structure. An ache in the head is notice that something is wrong somewhere and not always it is in the head itself. Pain is not nature's method of punishment. It is her way of warning. When you feel pain don't merely try to allay it, seek out its real cause and stop that.

SKILLED LABOR FOR THE FARMER

Last year, in spite of all the difficulties, the farmers planted the largest acreages in the history of the Nation. Harvested record crops of most important things: except wheat, it succeeded in greatly increasing the number of live stock. Since last year skilled farm labor has been given deferred classification and the Secretary of War has asked for power to furlough soldiers of the National Army if their training permits, so that they may return to their farms and assist. It is believed that the farmers of the Nation can, by collective organization and occupation, with such assistance as can be furnished, again overcome labor difficulties and produce large quantities of foods, feed-stuffs, and live stock.

There is an opportunity now for urban people sympathetically and constructively to study the farm-labor situation and to render assistance. In many towns and cities there are men who have had farming experience, who are able bodied and who would doubtless be willing to serve the Nation in the field of agriculture at this time. Especially for the seasonal strains of planting, cultivating and harvesting, it will not be too much to ask such men to aid the farmers in the necessary undertaking of maintaining and if possible supplementing the food supply in order to feed the armies and to sustain the civilian population behind them. If soldiers are willing to serve in the trenches, to dig ditches, build railroads and risk their lives, many civilians can well afford to spare a part of their time to serve in the furrows and in the harvest fields. If it appears that the farmers of a community or region are not able to secure the necessary labor by the usual methods, then the leaders in the town or city immediately dependent upon that region should organize, establish touch with representative farm leaders and see if they cannot assist in solving the problem. In so doing they will not only aid the farmers of the Nation but they will vitally contribute to their own well-being and to that of their community.

The farmers are willing to do all that they humanly can but, where their labor supply cannot be furnished from the ordinary sources, it must be recruited from those whose very sustenance depends upon the farmers. The soldier and the farmer are eager to do their full share; the soldier is taking the chances of losing his life and the farmer is risking the labor of a year on the chance of the seasons; both incur risks. Very many civilians are equally eager to do their share but may not appreciate the opportunity to serve in the field of agriculture.

The Departments of Agriculture and Labor will render every possible aid, but each community knows its own problems and urban people, especially business men, could cooperate effectively with the farmers and so render much assistance.

WOMAN'S DANGER PERIOD

The period between forty-five and fifty-five years of age is said to be a crisis or danger period in a woman's life which tests her for her fitness to continue in the race. It is then that she suffers from such annoying symptoms as heat-flashes, nervousness, headaches, "the blues," or dread of impending evil, or some dormant disease in the system becomes active. When a woman is passing through this crisis there is one tried-and-true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which after forty years of success is now considered the standard remedy for woman's ailments.

MAY STILL EAT CANDY AND BE A PATRIOT

Is it wrong to make and eat candy in war times? Can we find in this time of food substitutes for sugar, just as we are finding substitutes for other foods that are being needed abroad? With every desire to be patriotic those who eat candy are uncertain whether it is wrong or right, because this part of the food program has not received as much emphasis as that part touching grains and meats.

The Food Administration says it is possible to eat candy and satisfy your sweet tooth and still be a patriot if you use care in selecting the kinds of candy that contain a minimum rather than a maximum amount of sugar.

We are asked to share our sugar with the allies yet the American sweet tooth craves candy. It not alone has food value but a reasonable amount of it is desirable in the diet. There are at least four groups of candy that contain a minimum instead of a maximum of sugar and which also contain other pure and wholesome ingredients which are plentiful.

The first group includes chocolate coated candies with nut and fruit centers, especially the old fashioned chocolate creams with the bitter-sweet coating and uncoated candies such as nougates, Turkish pastes and similar varieties. There is an abundance of chocolate; it is pure and wholesome and has high food value. You are co-operating in the conservation program if you eat chocolate confectionery containing such centers.

The second group includes "hard" boiled candies such as lemon drops, suck candy, fruit tablets, peanut bars, peanut brittle, glace nuts and the like. In this group may also be placed molasses candies such as taffies and kisses.

Marshmallows and similar candy comprises the third group. They may be eaten plain, toasted, dipped in chocolate, rolled in cocoanut and in many other palatable forms also without confections.

In the fourth group are included gum drops, jellies, jelly beans and the like, giving a wide variety of candy made from pure and wholesome ingredients and containing a minimum amount of sugar.

In eating candy in any of these four groups the consuming public is doing two definite things to aid conservation. First, it is saving sugar without neglecting the great American sweet tooth; second, it is enabling the confectioner to continue their industry and employ their labor usual.

PUBLIC STATEMENT

To the people of Charleroi:
In an effort to excuse and justify their own disobedience and defiance of authority, a few of our High School pupils have branded our schools and our community with the stigma of "Pro Germanism."

This condition makes necessary a plain statement of the facts relating to the teaching of German in our High School.

At the regular meeting of the School Board, held Sept. 5th, 1917, the following resolution was presented and passed by a unanimous vote:

Resolved "That the study of the French language be substituted for the study of the German language, with the understanding that the present Junior and Senior classes be permitted to continue the study of the German language until their graduation."

The reason for the provision allowing the Junior and Senior classes to continue the study of German until their graduation was that the College Entrance requirements insist that all applicants must have had at least two years of one modern language other than English.

If this exception had not been made, the members of the classes affected would have had to complete an extra year in French either in our own school or in some other preparatory school.

The Charleroi High School was one of the first school in the State to abolish the teaching of German, and it was done in the only way possible without a handicap upon the pupils who had already started their course in German.

WHEN EVERY MOVE HURTS

Lame every morning, achy and stiff all day, worse when it's damp or chilly? Suspect your kidneys and try the remedy your neighbors use.

Fred Clase, 424 Fourth St., Doan's, Pa., says: "I had pains in my back and I often felt tired. Mornings I felt very lame and unable to move without misery. When I stooped over I could hardly straighten up again on account of a kink catching me in my side. The kidney secretions passed too frequently and some nights I had to get up three or four times. CHIROPRACTIC

(KI-RO-PRAK-TIC)

Going directly to the cause of the majority of so-called diseases is the reason of Chiropractic efficiency as a drugless health agent; that is why adjustments benefit you when all "treatment methods" have failed. Disease is a medical term. It is a misnomer. All so-called disease is but bodily incoordination. The "diseases" here named, are called such to educate the reader by contrast to proper terminology.

Chiropractic Is Right

Adjustments Restore Health Quickly and Permanently

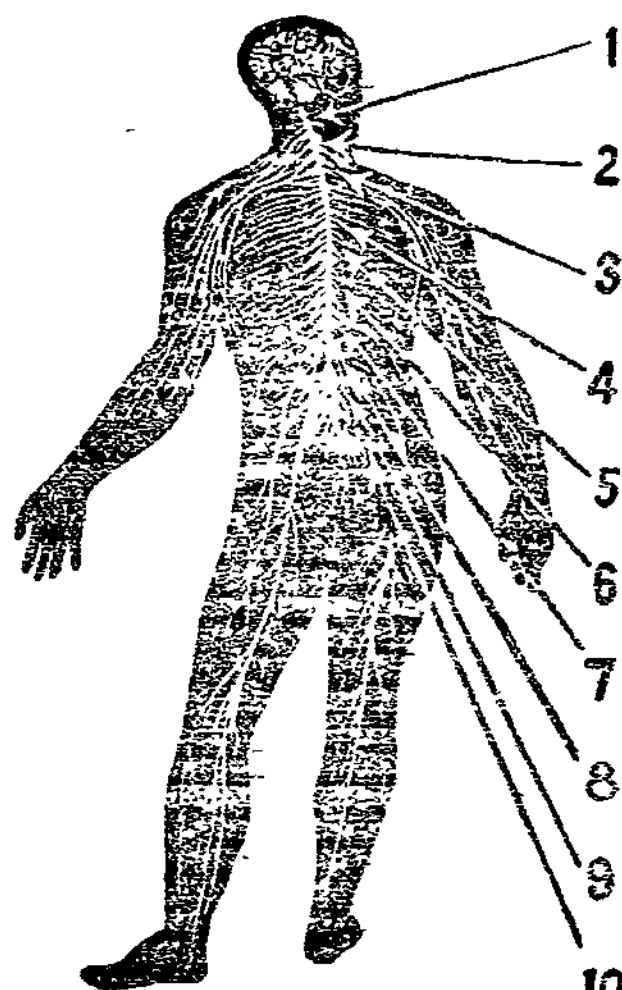

Nature is the Chiropractor's only aid—adjustments remove the pinch on the nerves and enable Nature to do her part in making and keeping the body well.

Ninety-five per cent of diseases are due to pressure upon nerves along the sides of vertebral column. This pressure interferes with their functions; hence inflammation, unnatural action, pain and distress are manifested where these nerves end. All diseases are prolonged until pressure upon these nerves leading to the affected parts is adjusted. It is the business of the Chiropractor to release this pressure with the hand, the doing of which has never been taught in other schools and has never been practiced by them.

Ancient methods and cure-alls put but little check on disease. Times have changed and science is progressing.

Chiropractic adjustments, relieving nerve impingement, permit nature to remove the cause of disease and correct abnormalities without the use of drugs.

The most famous surgeon, perhaps, using the knife today says: "The drugless practitioner is one of the best things that has come into the life of the present day."

- 1 Slight subluxations at this point will cause so-called headaches, eye diseases, deafness, epilepsy, vertigo, insomnia, wry neck, facial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, etc.
- 2 A slight subluxation of a vertebra in this part of the spine is the cause of so-called throat trouble, neuralgia, pain in the shoulders and arms, goitre, nervous prostration, la grippe, dizziness, bleeding from nose, disorder of gums, catarrh, etc.
- 3 The arrow head marked No. 3 locates the part of the spine wherein subluxations will cause so-called bronchitis, felons, pain between the shoulder blades, rheumatism of the arms and shoulders, hay fever, writers' cramp, etc.
- 4 A vertebral subluxation at this point causes so-called nervousness, heart disease, asthma, pneumonia, tuberculosis, difficult breathing, other lung troubles, etc.
- 5 Stomach and liver troubles, enlargement of the spleen, plury and a score of other troubles, so-called, are caused by subluxations in this part of the spine, sometimes so light as to remain unnoticed by others except the trained Chiropractor.
- 6 Here we find the cause of so-called gall stones, dyspepsia of upper bowels, fevers, shingles, hiccough, worms, etc.
- 7 Bright's disease, diabetes, floating kidney, skin disease, boils, eruptions and other diseases, so-called, are caused by nerves being pinched in the spinal openings at this point.
- 8 Regulations of such troubles as so-called appendicitis, peritonitis, lumbago, etc., follow Chiropractic adjustments at this point.
- 9 Why have so-called constipation, rectal troubles, sciatica, etc., when Chiropractic adjustments at this part of the spine will remove the cause?
- 10 A slight slippage of one or both innominate bones will likewise produce so-called sciatica, together with many "diseases" of pelvis and lower extremities.

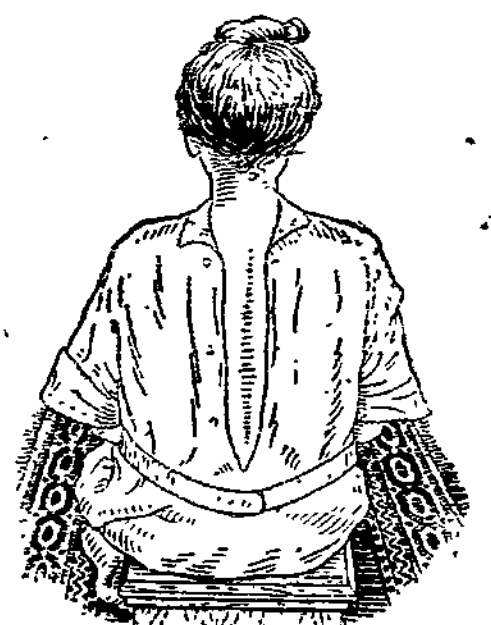

What Is Chiropractic?

Ki-ro-prac-tik)

It Is Not Medicine; Not Surgery; Not Osteopathy

It is a scientific method of adjusting the cause of disease without drugs or instruments, based on a correct knowledge of anatomy and especially the nervous system. The Chiropractic idea is that the cause of disease is in correcting the wrong that is producing it. The function of every organ in the body is controlled by mental impulses results in an abnormal function called disease. This interference is produced by subluxated vertebrae pressing upon nerves as they pass out from the spinal cord. The trained Adjuster is able to locate the point of obstruction or interference and by means of adjusting the subluxated vertebrae corrects the cause and normal conditions or health, is the result.

Investigation costs nothing and means health and happiness.

CHIROPRACTIC

ADJUSTMENTS FOR WOMEN

Many ladies hesitate to be examined by doctors. There is no immodest ordeal in submitting to a Chiropractic analysis of the spine. The Chiropractor locates the cause of the patient's trouble by merely palpating the spine. No local examination of other parts, internal or external is made. There is nothing to be gained by such examinations, as all causes are located in the spine.

The illustration shows the absence of any immodest ordeal in submitting to Adjustments. No part of the body is brought to view, save the area just over the spinal column, which necessarily must be adapted to palpitation over the cutaneous surface and direct application of the hands to the spinal segments. Suitable dressing rooms are provided.
